Carols Evening

A big thank you to everyone who braved the weather last night to attend our Carols Evening. The choir really enjoyed getting to perform in front of everyone despite the conditions. Hopefully, next year we will be back in the hall for a proper Christmas Fair.

Thank you to everyone who contributed to the raffle. The details of the prize winners will be sent out via Parent Mail and prizes can be collected from the school office. We would also like to thank Cassandra Fellingham-Orr for all the hard work she put in gathering prizes and selling tickets. We will update you all next week with the amount raised.

Age Appropriate Viewing

There have been several instances this term where it has come to light that pupils have been accessing inappropriate content, whether that be online, on TV or gaming. This can often be seen to have a negative impact on school life. Please make sure that any devices children are using have the necessary safety measures in place to ensure that what they are viewing is age-appropriate.

Headteacher's Award

Romey is a worthy recipient of the award this week for her art work inspired by David Hockney. Her beautiful work was used as an example to the class of how to accurately recreate his style.

Catholic Schools Inspection

A big thank you to those who responded to our parent questionnaire for our Catholic Schools Inspection earlier this week. We look forward to sharing the report from this inspection once released.

Iron Man Crisp Packet Collection

The School Council collected up all of the crisp packets in each class and will be sending them off to be made into emergency blankets for the homeless very soon. Thank you for your support for this worthwhile cause.

Luke 3:1-6

'The winding roads must be made straight, and the rough paths made smooth.'
